Tutoring Experience

For over a decade, I have been teaching Mathematics to students across a variety of international curricula. My career began teaching IGCSE and A-Level Mathematics at a Cambridge-affiliated school in the UK. During this time, I honed my skills in preparing students for challenging exams, particularly within the IGCSE and A-Level frameworks.

Following this, I transitioned to teaching IB MYP Mathematics at an international school, where I worked with students from diverse cultural and academic backgrounds. My focus has been on helping learners understand complex topics such as calculus, trigonometry, and algebra while building their confidence to tackle demanding assessments.

I currently work as a private tutor, guiding students globally through online sessions. My experience includes preparing students for competitive exams, offering tailored support to ensure their success, and helping them achieve top-tier results across various curriculums.
